*This monthly newsletter provides the inside scoop on how you can maximize the use of TeachingBooks.
Please forward pertinent information to your colleagues.*

Share & Promote TeachingBooks.net ... Easily!

TeachingBooks.net wants to add relevant, multimedia dimensions to all reading activities in your school—at all grade levels and in all content areas. Our resources are for everyone using books in the K–12 environment—ELA teachers, curriculum coordinators, reading coaches, and even families. We encourage you to share your TeachingBooks license with everyone in your educational community.

The Share & Promote section in our Support Area has ready-to-use emails, bookmarks, flyers, video demonstrations, search boxes to embed, and much more. Access this by clicking on “Support Area” on the top of any page, and then “Share & Promote” on the left side of the screen, or go to:

<http://TeachingBooks.net/Share>.

If we can do anything to assist you and your colleagues, please ask. Simply give us a call: (800) 596-0710 or email us: info@TeachingBooks.net.

Attention Elementary Educators: NEW Series Books Curriculum Resource Center

TeachingBooks has just produced a collection of multimedia resources for you to use in exploring popular series books with elementary school-aged students:

- Hear audio clips of authors discussing how they came to write their series books.
- Access discussion questions, activities, and other materials to enrich conversations about series books.
- Find resources for non-fiction series books too, including science books and biographies.

More than 40 series are currently included in this Curriculum Resource Center (CRC) that can be used in the library, classroom, or at home with students and their families. From our home page, click on “Visit the Series Books Curriculum Resource Center” or go directly to: <http://TeachingBooks.net/Series>.

This Month's What's New Webinar: Announcing the Series Books CRC

Join us on Tuesday, September 21, 2010 for a 10-minute webinar with Nick Glass, TeachingBooks.net's Founder. This web seminar will unveil the latest efforts to connect you directly with the authors and meaningful resources about books that are often read and discussed in your schools.

Tuesday, September 21st: 1 p.m. Eastern Time, 10 a.m. Pacific Time

Just go to: <http://TeachingBooks.net/MonthlyWebinar>

If you can't make this month's webinar, watch the recording we'll distribute after the webinar. Please see the rest of the fall schedule at: <http://TeachingBooks.net/WhatsNewWebinar>.

Thanks! Let us know how we can help you use and enjoy TeachingBooks! 800-596-0710
